Thoughts From Our Pastor

Dear Brothers and Sisters in Christ,

Get up...leave...take off... These words are good for those trapped or enslaved. Some resist their orders however, preferring present surroundings to a new, unknown environment. It is not easy to trade the comfortable security of the known for an uncertain future. But what if God orders you to move? Will we follow His lead?

The book of Exodus from which our first reading comes on this 30th Sunday of the year describes a series of God's calls and the response of his people. The word "exodus" means departure. In God's timing, the exodus of the Israelites from Egypt marked the end of a period of the oppression of Abraham's descendants (Genesis 15:13), and the beginning of the fulfillment of the covenant promise to Abraham: that his descendants would not only live in the Promised Land, but would also multiply and become a great nation (Genesis 12:1-3,7).

The purpose of the book of Exodus may be expressed as tracing the rapid growth of Jacob's descendants from Egypt to the establishment of the theocratic nation in their Promised Land. The book of Exodus begins more than four hundred years after Joseph, his brothers, and the pharaoh he once served have all died. The new leadership in Egypt -- feeling threatened by Jacob's descendants, who have increased greatly in number -- embarks on a campaign to subdue the Israelites, forcing them into slavery and eventually decreeing that all Hebrew boys must be killed at birth. The Hebrew women resist the decree, and one woman opts to save her newborn son by setting him afloat on the Nile River in a papyrus basket. Fortunately, Pharaoh's daughter discovers the abandoned child, names him Moses, and raises him herself after he has been nursed. Moses, being aware of his Hebrew roots, kills an Egyptian who was beating an Israelite worker. Moses flees in fear to Midian, a town near Sinai, where he meets a priest named Jethro and marries the man's daughter. He then begins a new life as a shepherd. God however, is concerned for the suffering of the Israelites, and he appears to Moses in the form of a burning bush. God speaks to Moses, informing him of his plan to return the Israelites to Canaan -- to "a land flowing with milk and honey" (3:8) -- and to send Moses back to Egypt to accomplish this task. Moses becomes timid and resists, citing his lack of eloquence and abilities, and refuses to go. God is angered but encourages Moses, presenting him with a staff for performing miracles and instructing Moses to take his brother, Aaron, with him as an aid. When Moses asks God what his name is, God replies, I AM WHO I AM" (3:14).

In today's reading, God gives the Israelites the Ten Commandments at the foot of Mount Sinai. The Israelites had just come from Egypt, a land of many gods. Because each god represented a different aspect of life, it was common to worship many gods in order to get maximum number of blessings. Nowadays, we allow many things to become gods to us. Money, fame, work, or pleasure can become gods when we concentrate too much on them for personal identity, meaning and security. Letting God hold the central place in our lives keeps these things from turning into Gods. May God bless you.

Rev. George O. Omwando

First Reading: Malachi 1:14-2:2, 8-10

The book of Malachi was written after the Jews returned from exile in Babylon. The prophet expresses God's displeasures because, once the people returned to their homeland and enjoyed better times, they grew lax in their religious practices. Today's passage is directed to the Jewish priest in the temple, scolding them for their carelessness and indifference.

Second Reading: 1 Thessalonians 2:7-9,13

Thessalonica was a city in north-eastern Greece, where Christians were persecuted. So Paul wrote them a friendly and encouraging letter. In today's passage we will hear him use a touching image to describe his relationship with these people whom he loves.
