Thoughts From Our Pastor

Dear Brothers and Sisters in Christ,

One of Jesus' most significant parables regarding work is set in the context of investments (Matt. 25:14-30). In this Gospel, a rich man delegates the management of his wealth to his servants, much as investors in today's markets do. He gives five talents (a large unit of money) to the first servant, two talents to the second, and one talent to the third. Two of the servants earn 100 percent return by trading with the funds, but the third servant hides the money in the ground and earns nothing. The rich man returns, rewards the two who made money, but severely punishes the servant who did nothing. We do not know a lot of information about this man; however, we do know that he trusted his staff since he gave them all his possessions and left to an unknown land. I think that not many of us by human standards today would entrust their wealth to people and then go away. Our Gospel today tells us that that this man gave his staff different talents according to each one's ability.

In the New Testament, the term "talent" meant something very different than it does today. The talents Jesus spoke of in the Parable of the Unforgiving Servant (Mathew 18:21-35) and the Parable of the Talents (Mathew 25:14-30) referred to the largest unit of currency at the time. Thus, a talent represented a rather large sum of money. According to New Nave's Topical Bible, one who possessed five talents of gold or silver was a multimillionaire by today's standards. Some calculate the talent in the parables to be equivalent to 20 years of wages for the common worker. Other scholars estimate more conservatively, valuing the New Testament talent somewhere between $1,000 to $30,000 dollars today. We are told that the owner of the talents came back after a long time and was pleased with the two men who invested the talents he gave them. The two men were rewarded accordingly by him. The one who did not invest the talent received nothing.

Who is this man who gave the talents? This Man is Jesus Christ, Who died and went back to heaven, and someday he will come back again. Today, my brothers and sisters, I challenge you to discover your gift/s and share them with others -- and do not be like the man who never invested his talent. God does not endow people with identical or necessarily equal gifts. If you do as well as you can with the gifts given to you by God, you will hear His voice: "Well done." Not only the gifts, but also the people have equal worth. At the same time, the parable ends with the talent taken from the third servant being given to the one with ten talents. Equal worth does not necessarily mean equal compensation. Some positions require more skill or ability and thus are compensated accordingly. The two servants who did well are rewarded in different amounts. But they are both praised identically. The implication of the parable is that we are to use whatever talents we've been given to the best of our ability for God's glory, and when we have done that, we are on an equal playing field with other faithful, trustworthy servants of God.

Finally, I want to thank everyone who worked so hard to make our Christmas Bazaar successful, especially the planning and organization by the Fundraising Committee. They indeed spent countless time of their own and talents God has given them to make our Christmas Bazaar more inviting and enjoyable. May God bless you.

Rev. George O. Omwando

Success Stories

Religion Education

I can speak from my personal experience as the Coordinator of Religious Education at St. Catherine-St. Lucy Church.

In late August, I attended a retreat for Catechists that Vicariate VI sponsored and was overwhelmed at the number of individuals who attended and participated in the prayfulness of the day and the singing.

Late last month I attended the 7th anniversary choir concert of the Chicago Black Catholic Choir at Holy Angels Church and again was overwhelmed by the number of individuals who attended and the music and prayfulness of the whole evening.

On Thursday, Nov. 9 we had a wonderful speaker here at St. Catherine-St. Lucy and she talked about "Tell the Story, Spread the Word."

If there is a success story in this, it is that it reaffirmed my faith that Religious Education is very important in our children's lives and in our lives as adults, parents, teacher, catechists or whatever purpose we serve in instructing our children in the traditions of our Catholic faith, and sharing our faith. "Tell the Story, Spread the Word."

I thank God that I have the opportunity to meet the children and their parents on the Wednesday nights that we have Religious Education and hope that as we continue to meet we will share our faith and instruct the children in the rich traditions of our Catholic faith. "Tell the Story, Spread the Word."

Respectfully submitted,

Christine Wedekind

Sharing our Gifts

Autumn is the season for harvesting and sharing the fruits of our labors. This week's scriptures use images of the harvest, family life, pregnancy, and investment to describe the abundant harvest in the reign of God. We discover that sharing the gifts we have been given brings eternal rewards for everyone.

In the Gospel parable a master entrusts his possessions to three servants before going on a journey. Each is given some talents. What they do with those talents determines what the master will do with them when he returns. How about us? What are we doing with our talents? How will our Master treat us when he returns?

Gratitude

Once again, the 'miracle' of the annual Christmas Bazaar and Luncheon took place on Friday and Saturday, November 10th and 11th. The true 'miracle' isn't the event itself, but the caring involvement of the amazing Parishioners, Staff, School Families, Alumni, Donors, and Friends who make it happen, and continue to build this Community of Faith. The planning, execution, attendance, follow-up and togetherness are the result of so many dedicated people who make this happy, treasured event happen year after year. Thank you to all - job well done!

an Advent day of retreat

Saturday, December 2, 2017 10:00AM to 3:00PM

With Br. Joseph Kilikevics, OP

The clamor and busyness of the holiday season easily seizes our spirits leaving us feeling stressed and overwhelmed. Our time of Advent waiting can be made more gentle by joining with others who wait and pray with us. Indeed the whole world is waiting for the Good News of peace and justice the coming Messiah brings.

This prayerful time of waiting will accompany the simple task of baking a loaf of honey whole wheat bread. Previous bread baking experience is not necessary. All ingredients will be provided. While waiting for dough to rise to be transformed into a delicious loaf in the oven to be shared with loved ones. The words of Jesus recorded in ancient Aramaic texts of the Scriptures will be explored with chant and prayerful movement.

“Create through us the Bread of Life. We ask only what is needed to feed the next hungry person we meet.” (A translation of the familiar.” Give us this day our daily bread.” from Aramaic texts of the Bible.
